To whom it may concern,

On behalf of Rose Noland, I would like to take an opportunity to formally endorse her to the work for our Lord and Savior Jesus. I have personally known Rose for over fifteen years and can say truthfully that she has been a delight and joy from the day we met. In addition to that, she has become a great inspiration, writer, and speaker for the cause of Christ.

Several years ago, she lost her husband to cancer. For some people the loss of a spouse is a mountain that just never is climbed, but—to God be the glory—that has not been the case for Rose. Yes, she mourns the loss of her best earthly friend, but she has since become more in love with her best of best friends, Jesus.

Should you need a speaker for your retreat, conference, special event, or any such event where a woman could minister to a woman, Rose would be a great encouragement. She has a keen sense of the hurt, pain, needs, and struggles that women can face. She can not only reach their hearts but also walk with them in their journey. The women to whom Rose ministers will know that she cares.

Rose has spoken often here at our church, disciplined other women, and has been used in many other capacities, such as our outreach to women in the inner city. Rose has my full support, and I whole-heartedly recommend her to you and your work. I am confident God will use her mightily.

In His Great Service,
